

1922 TOM TOM IS REAL WORK OF ART

High School Annual is Ready for Distribution Tuesday

INTEREST IS JUSTIFIED

Paints Vivid Picture of Life and Activities of Central High

The first copies of the 1922 Tom Tom will be in the hands of Central high school students today. The annual is just off the press and will be placed in the offices at the school building this morning.

Since the coming of Ralph S. Hay, director of publications to Central high three years ago the Tom Tom has established for itself a precedent by coming out before the close of the school year. The placing of the annual in the corridors the week before commencement this year maintains the flawless record. The coming out of the annual is always a tremendous event to school life and one that is looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

Purely Tulsa Product.
The Tom Tom this year in every way justifies that interest. From cover to cover a purely Tulsa product, it can take its place as one of the best publications of its kind anywhere in the country. From point of content, assembly of material, art work, photography, make-up and exemplification of the spirit of the school that it represents this year's annual is one of the best ever published by the school. Its aim, as expressed in the foreword, "to paint a vivid picture of the life and activities of Tulsa high school, to give students recognition for their achievements and to give the school an annual of which it may feel truly proud" is obviously reached.

The Tom Tom this year is dedicated to "our patrons, whose financial aid has made possible this publication." To business men and firms whose generous contributions in amounts sufficient to purchase display space in amounts indicated in the list. The Tom Tom is divided into eight parts, the school book, the faculty, the classes, athletics, foreman, organizations, "rare stuff" and the little Tom Tom. The cartoons and art work is a notable feature of this year's annual. A novel feature this year and one that has the unusual virtue of being interesting not only to students but to every casual observer is the "rare stuff" section in which pictures of some of the senior girls, costumed and with background appropriate to those costumes, are shown.

Cleverly Handled.
As far as that goes, original treatment of what must of necessity be old stuff because it is always a necessary part of any properly assembled school annual, characterizes this year's Tom Tom. A large part of the material is cleverly handled and work in all departments is thoughtfully done. The book is gotten out by the press of the Triangle Printing company.

The Tom Tom staff is made up of William M. Greene, editor-in-chief, Mary McIntyre and Harold Armstrong, editors; E. James Downing, business manager and Carl Livingston and Mary Reisinger, on the business staff; biographer staff, Edward Reithman, chairman, and E. James Downing, Dorothy Marquis, Margaret Kerr, Alpharetta Scott, Lucile John and Frances Whitehead; organization staff, Katherine Aetow, chairman, and Helen Vetter, Dorothy Scott, William Elliott; photography staff, Winifred Winn, chairman, Ethel Beebe, athletic staff, Ruth Chase, chairman, Ethel Koop; make-up, Herbert Rhee; art staff, Bruce Goff, chairman, Laveta Ford and Dick Blum; snatched staff, Virginia Backus, chairman, Moses Kornfeld, Clara Kramer, Dorothy Watkins, Gladys Huling, Virginia Berlin; representatives of school-at-large, Barbara Osborn and Harold Gilbert; junior representatives, Willard Hardi, William Dix and Sam Kennedy; sophomore representative, Burton Jordan.

WEAK, NERVOUS, OUT OF HEART

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition"

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. L. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go."

"I had no appetite."

"Could not rest or sleep well."

"I was so weak and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself or any one else."

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart."

"This nervous condition was worse than pain."

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it."

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well."

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, it is reasonable to suppose that you, too, will find Cardui helpful for your troubles, as thousands of women have.

Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Get a bottle from your druggist, to-day.—Advertisement.

LESSON NO. 55.

An Adaptation of the Vario Coupler.

(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)
The usual form of vario coupler having a 50 degree variation from maximum coupling to minimum coupling is in common use and has already been described. The receiver to be described here makes use of a vario coupler which has 130 degrees variation between maximum and minimum coupling. This feature is obtained by tilting the primary of the coupler from a position in which the plane of the coil is parallel to the plane of the set to an angle of 45 degrees with the plane, in which position it is securely mounted. The secondary coil is made small enough so that it may be rotated inside of the primary coil. Figure 1 shows the method of mounting the vario-coupler in this manner which permits a finer adjustment of coupling valve.

This receiver has a range sufficient to cover the amateur stations and the broadcasting stations. The serial circuit consists of the aerial, the primary of the varicoupler having 50 turns of wire on a four-inch tube with taps every 10 turns, and a variable condenser in series with the primary and ground having a capacity of about .001 microfarad.

The secondary of the vario coupler is divided into two parts, one of which is in inductive relation to the primary and the other is in inductive relation to the plate variometer. The portion of the secondary inductive relation to the primary consists of 20 turns of wire on a two and one-half inch tube. The portion of the secondary in inductive relation to the plate variometer, and in fact secured to the side of the variometer consists of 30 turns of wire on a four-inch tube. The secondary condenser is connected to the plate variometer.

should have a capacity of about .001 microfarad and may be identical with the series condenser in the primary circuit. Any reliable make of variometer may be employed in the plate circuit.

It is preferable to mount the set in a shielded cabinet. With the detector unit in a separate cabinet, the usual practice being to mount the two condensers at the bottom of the panel, with the variocoupler and plate variometer at the top of the panel directly over the condensers. The five-point switch for the primary taps may be mounted in the center of the panel giving a symmetrical arrangement to the finished panel.

Capacity effects may be reduced to a minimum by shielding the back of the panel and using metal dials for the controls with grounded brushes touching the dials. This type of receiver will be found very useful in receiving either spark signals or continuous wave signals as well as the broadcasting programs. It will be found that interference can be more readily reduced with this type of receiver than with the single circuit receiver and many types of two circuit receivers.

The amount of regenerative "is regulated" by varying the plate variometer only, the tuning being done with the secondary and primary condensers.

YANKSEY SAYS HE HASN'T ANY FAVOR TO ASK

Railroad Conductor In Strong Statement Declares Tanlac Has Completely Restored Him and His Little Son to the Best of Health.

"In making this statement I haven't any ax to grind or favors to ask," said A. F. Yanksey, 1022 S. Eighteenth St., St. Louis, Mo., well-known conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad, in telling his experiences with Tanlac.

"For years I had been just about half sick, and my appetite went back on me, my stomach being so out of order that no food agreed with me. Gas kept me in misery for hours, my nerves were all undone and my sleep was so restless I always dreaded to go out on my run. I was so played out.

"I have taken two bottles of Tanlac and have actually gained ten pounds. I can eat and digest anything, and sleep well. My little 8-year-old son has been helped by Tanlac, too. He was weak and puny but is now full of energy. Tanlac is certainly a world beater."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

Don't Grow Old Before Your Husband

Science Now Shows What Often Causes Premature Loss of Youth, Beauty and Attractiveness and Makes Women Fretful, Nervous and Run-Down

If Your Face Is Haggard, Thin, and Pale, Try This Simple Home Remedy Which Often Makes Women Look and Feel Years Younger and Surprisingly Increases
Strength and Energy

Thousands of women are like the woman in this picture. They have grown old much more rapidly than their husbands. The roses have faded from their cheeks, they are weak, pale and careworn at a time of life when they should still be filled with buoyant health and radiant with youthful beauty—pale, thin watery blood has fastened its grip upon them and is gradually sapping their health, vitality and beauty. In most cases men safeguard their health, better than women by eating coarser foods, being more out of doors and leading more active lives, therefore keeping their blood stream strong and vigorous. For want of good blood a woman may look and feel old at thirty, pale, haggard and all run-down—while at fifty or sixty, with good health and plenty of rich, red blood, she may still be young in feeling and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age.

For the purpose of enriching the blood and helping to create millions of new red blood cells, there is nothing like good old Nuxated Iron. Physicians usually prescribe two five-grain tablets after meals. Nuxated Iron directly increases the activity of the blood making organs and supplies true red blood food, thus increasing the power of the body to transform lifeless food matter into living cells, flesh and tissue.

FREE

For those who are thin or emaciated in appearance and wish something to help increase their weight, arrangements have been made with druggists to give a large $1.00 package of Nuxated Iron. Genuine Nuxated Iron absolutely free with each bottle of Nuxated Iron that you purchase. In taking Nuxated Iron with Nuxated Iron always take Vitamin Tablets before meals and Nuxated Iron after meals. Weigh yourself before you start, weigh yourself again after ten days and see how much you have increased in weight and improved in color and the tired look around your eyes; then appearance.
